

EMBA Mid-Point Leadership Assessment

Feedback Report

Brian Morman

WashU Olin Business

Bauer Leadership Center

Mid-Point Leadership ASSESSMENT

The Bauer Leadership Center is pleased to offer you this comprehensive individualized feedback report based on the assessment you completed in the middle of the program. Although the document is long, we hope that you will find the content worthwhile. For those limited in time, the report is organized in sections that clearly distinguish the overall findings from more detailed findings that can be skimmed as you wish.

Pour yourself a cup of your favorite beverage and dive in!

THE TEAM BEHAVIOR INVENTORY: Feedback Report

The Team Behavior Inventory (TBI) was developed for use in evaluating individual behavior in teams. The TBI invites each member of a group to evaluate themselves and every other member of their team on specific team behaviors that have been shown to relate to effective teamwork. Those behaviors fall into the following four categories:

1. Displaying team commitment
2. Demonstrating leadership
3. Respecting others
4. Managing disagreements

The TBI also includes an evaluation of an individual's overall effectiveness as a team member.

For each of these dimensions, this report includes:

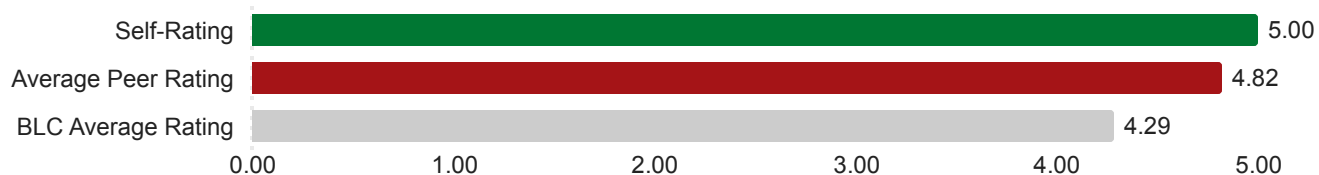

1. Self-rating: the rating that you gave yourself
2. Average peer rating: The average rating that other members of your team gave you
3. BLC average: the average peer ratings of all others who have taken the TBI through the Bauer Leadership Center

The goal of the TBI is to help you to develop and refine your skills at team membership and team leadership by giving you feedback on how you are being perceived by others in your team. As you consider these results, remember that most people have blind spots -- both in terms of strengths and weaknesses. Understanding weaknesses and strengths is the first -- and often the most difficult -- step toward self-improvement.

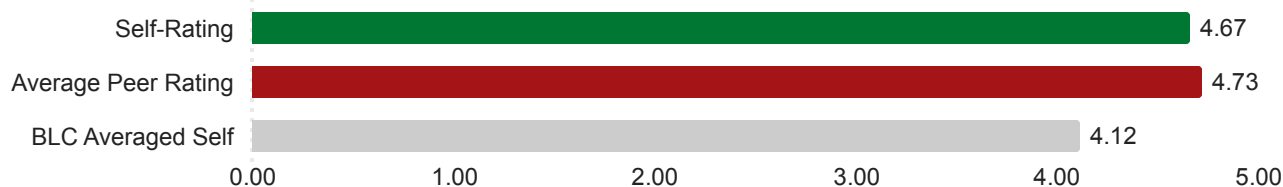

DIMENSION AVERAGES

The following graphs summarize your self-rating, the average of your peer ratings, and the BLC average (N=113) for each of the five team behaviors in the TBI.

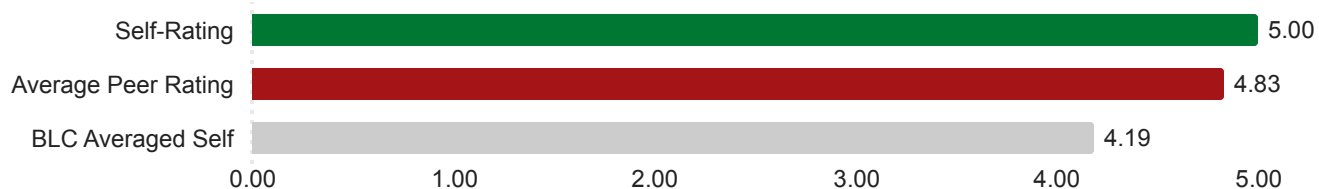

Displays Team Commitment

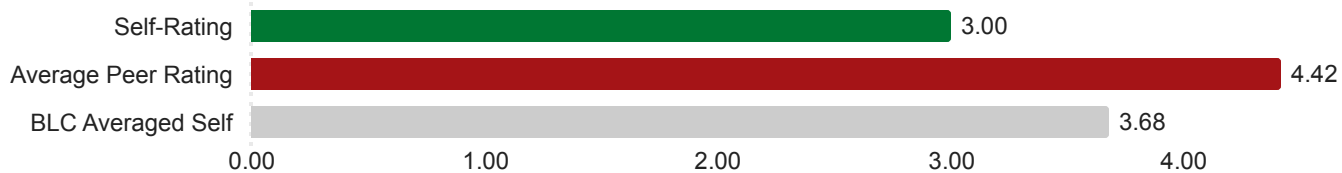

Demonstrates Leadership

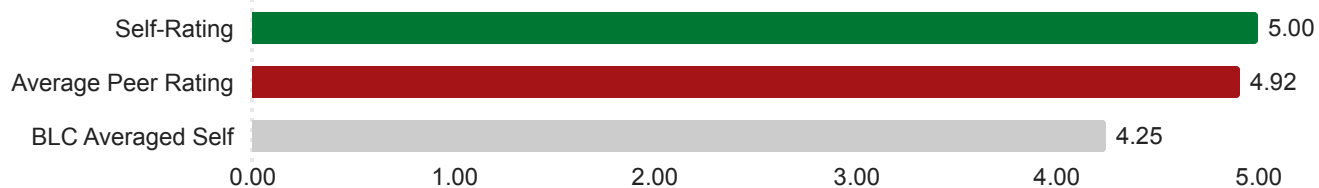

Respects Others

Manages Disagreements

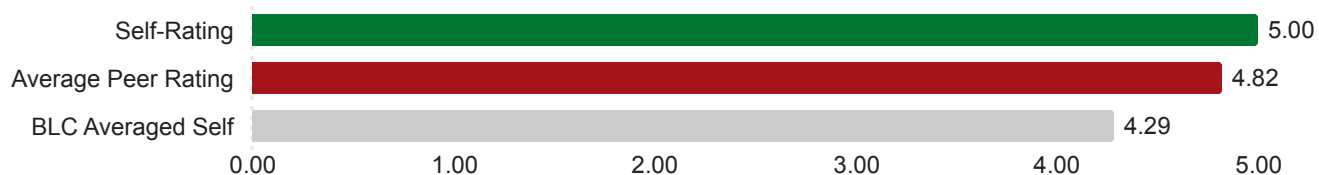

Overall Effectiveness

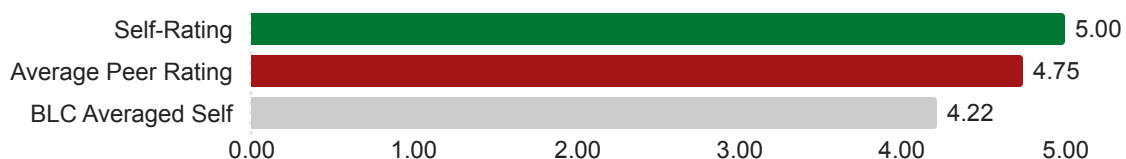

DISPLAYS TEAM COMMITMENT

The following graphs summarize your self-rating and the average of your peer ratings for DISPLAYS TEAM COMMITMENT and its component items.

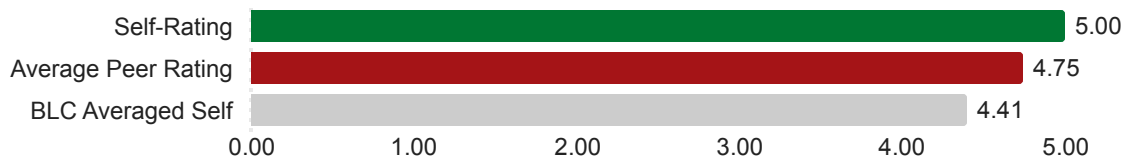

Displays Team Commitment

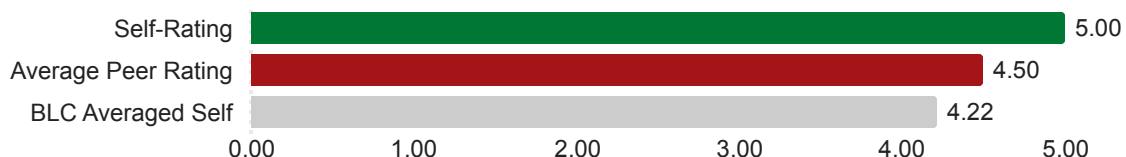

Consistently follows the team's ground rules and operating principles

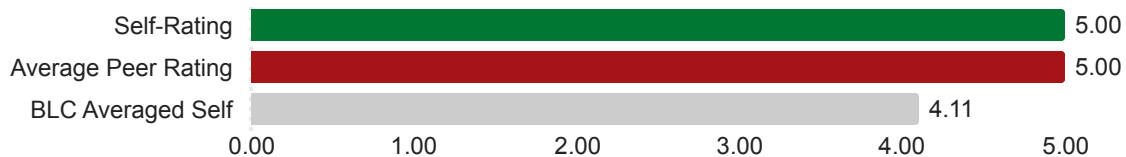

Follows through on commitments

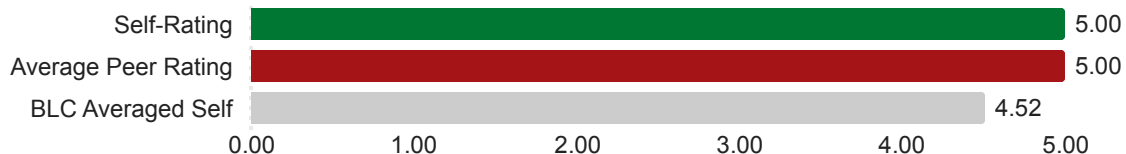

Adheres to team meeting timetables (e.g., arrives on-time, stays for duration of meeting)

Helps plan and organize work

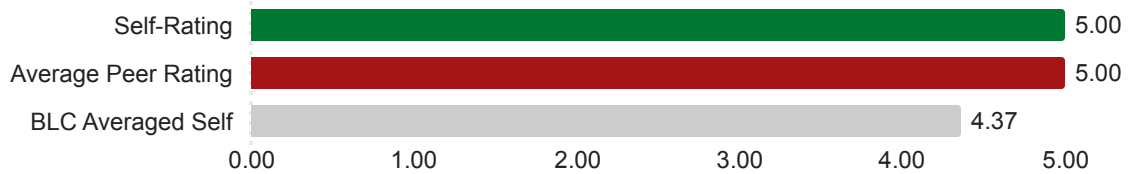

Completes their share of the work

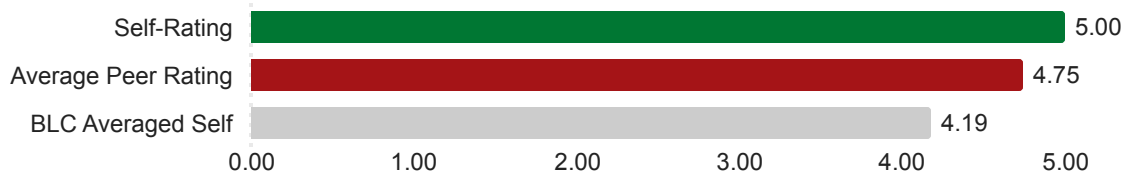

DISPLAYS TEAM COMMITMENT (continued)

The following graphs summarize your self-rating and the average of your peer ratings for DISPLAYS TEAM COMMITMENT and its component items.

Completes work by the agreed upon deadline

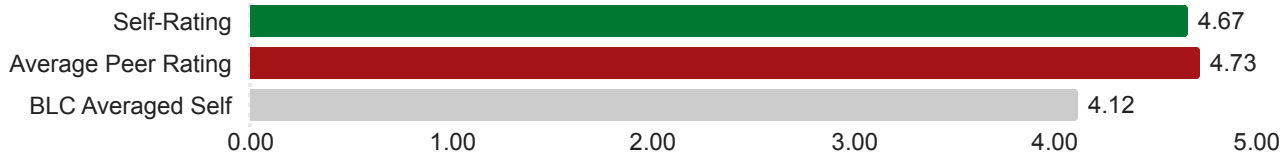

Stays focused on team objectives

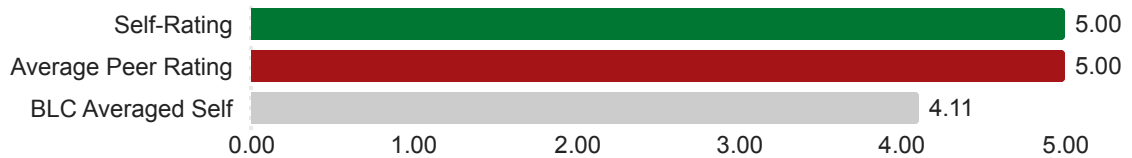

DEMONSTRATES LEADERSHIP

The following graphs summarize your self-rating and the average of your peer ratings for DEMONSTRATES LEADERSHIP and its component items.

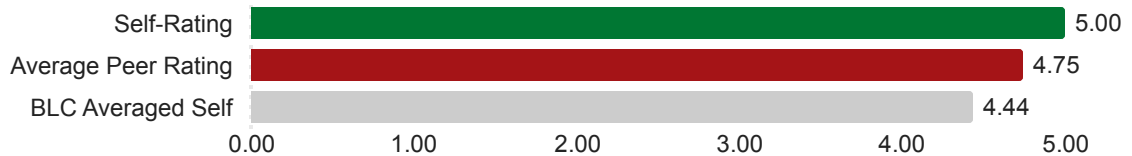

Demonstrates Leadership

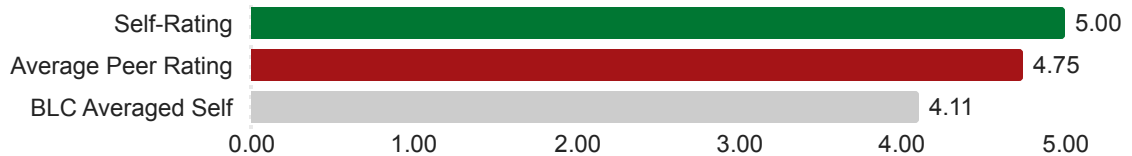

Actively participates in team goal setting

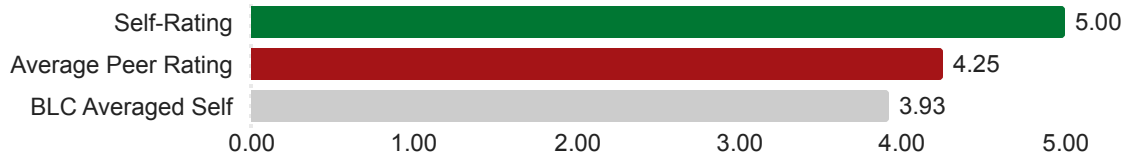

Asks questions to ensure work activities are linked to agreed upon objectives

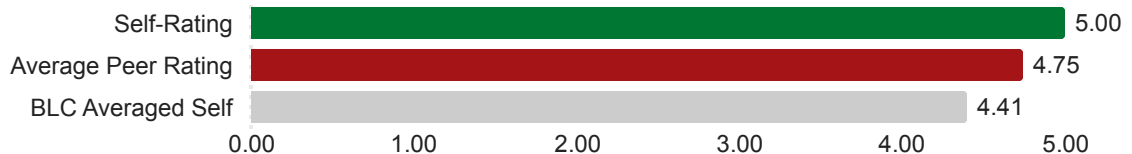

Helps facilitate effective communication

Encourages team members to try new skills and behaviors

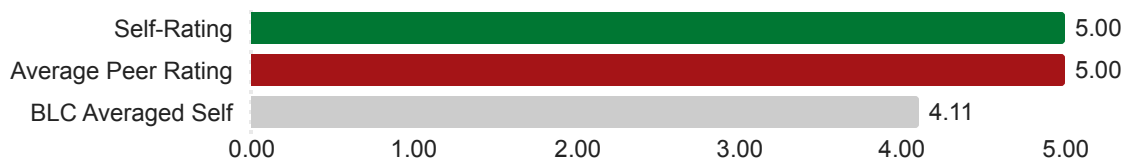

Clarifies the team's goals and objectives when appropriate

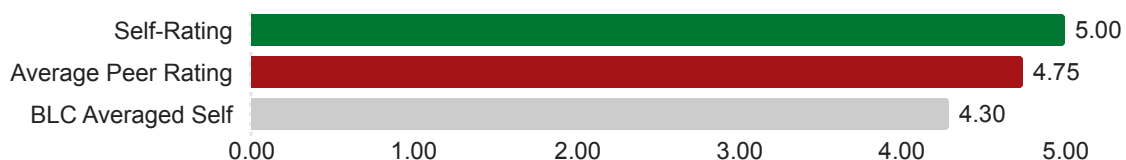

DEMONSTRATES LEADERSHIP (continued)

The following graphs summarize your self-rating and the average of your peer ratings for DEMONSTRATES LEADERSHIP and its component items.

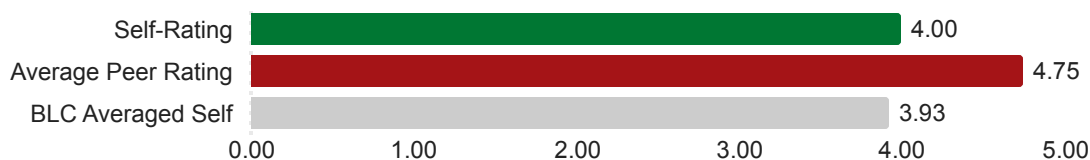

Shares team leadership responsibilities appropriately

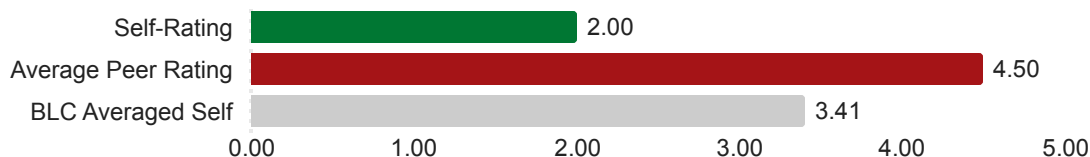

Shares information with team members at the appropriate time

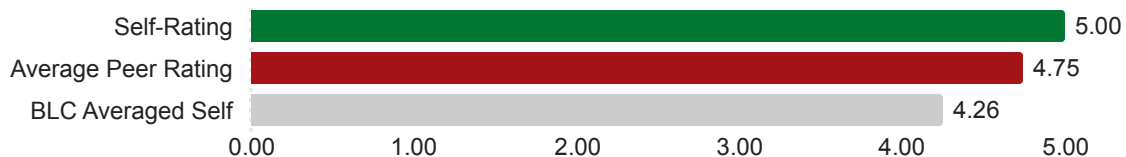

Provides feedback that facilitates learning and development

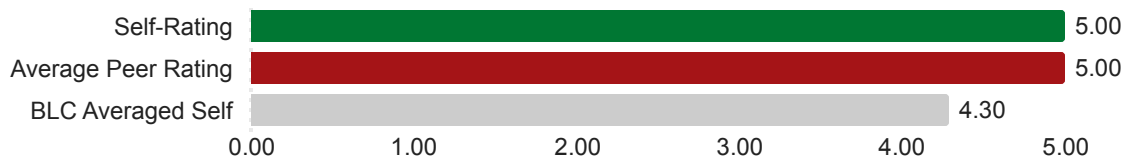

Holds teammates accountable

Produces high quality work

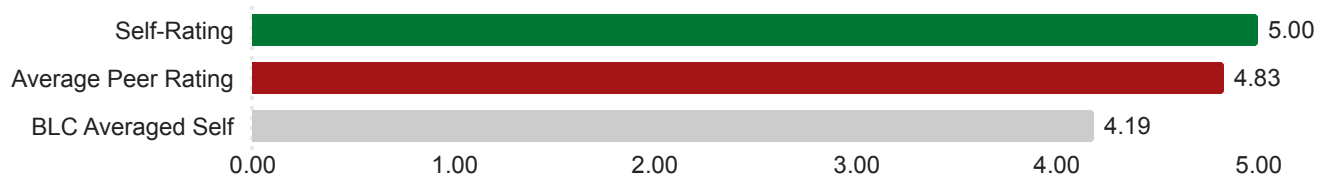

Steps up to lead at appropriate times

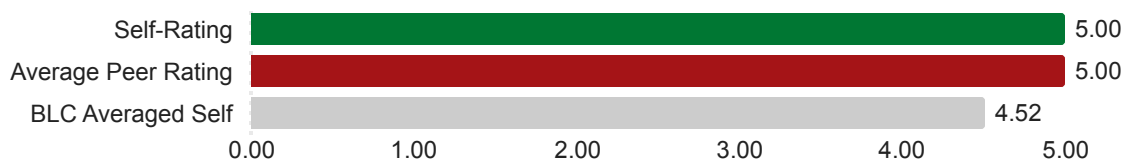

RESPECTS OTHERS

The following graphs summarize your self-rating and the average of your peer ratings for RESPECTS OTHERS and its component items.

Respects Others

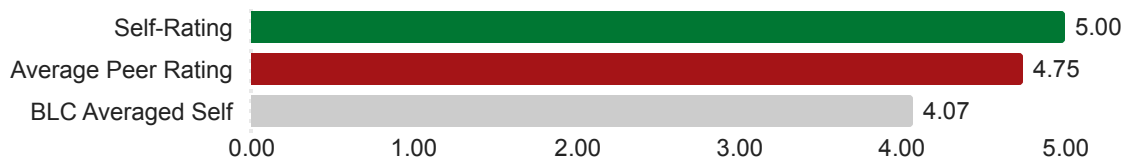

Treats others with respect

Listens to others

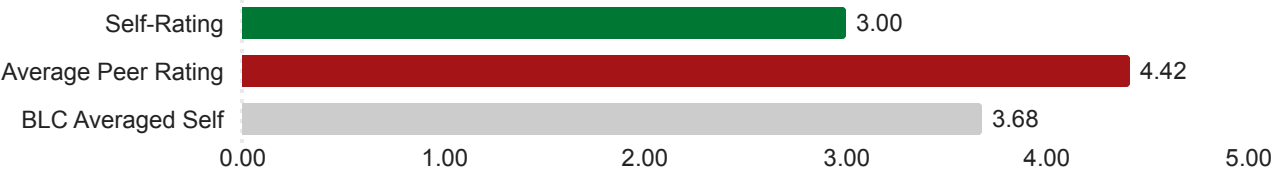

Is receptive to feedback

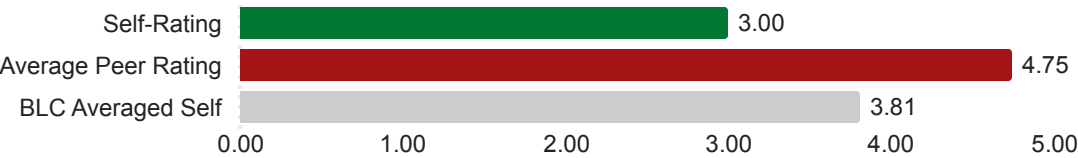

MANAGES DISAGREEMENTS

The following graphs summarize your self-rating and the average of your peer ratings for MANAGES DISAGREEMENTS and its component items.

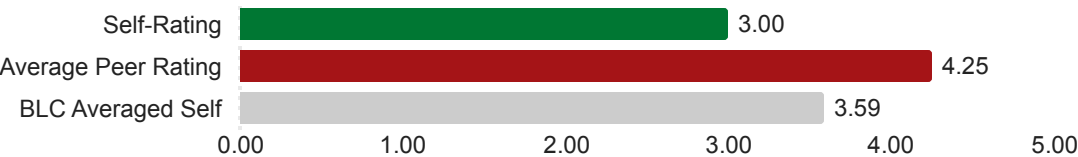

Manages Disagreements

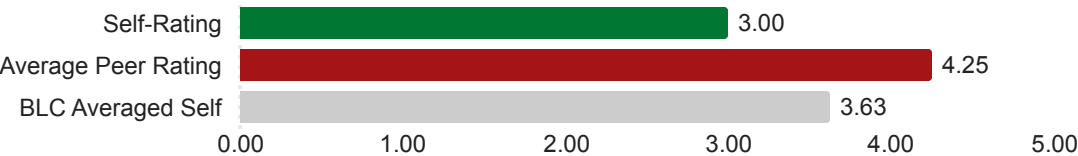

Addresses disagreements directly but tactfully

Encourages teammates to resolve disagreements positively

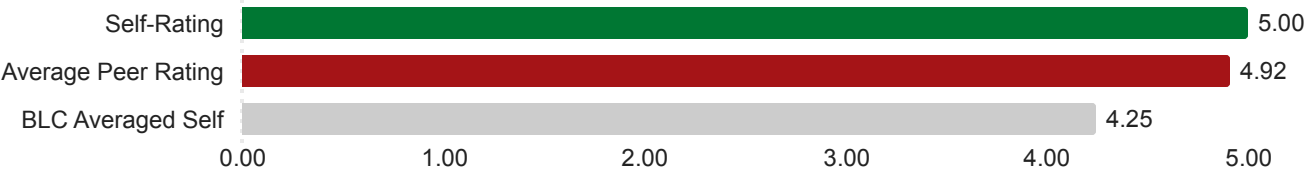

Confronts others tactfully when they deviate from the team’s ground rules

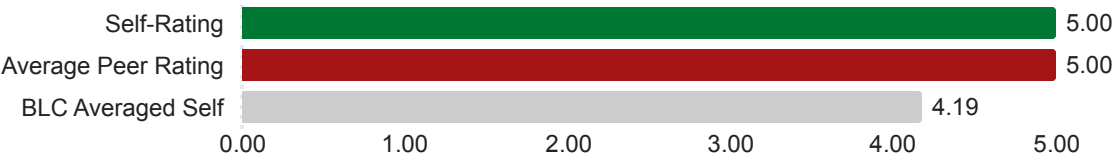

OVERALL EFFECTIVENESS

The following graphs summarize your self-rating and the average of your peer ratings for OVERALL EFFECTIVENESS and its component items.

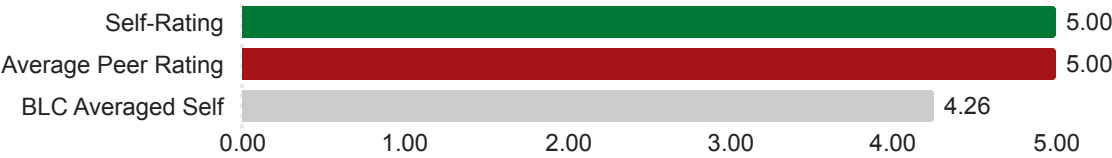

Overall Effectiveness

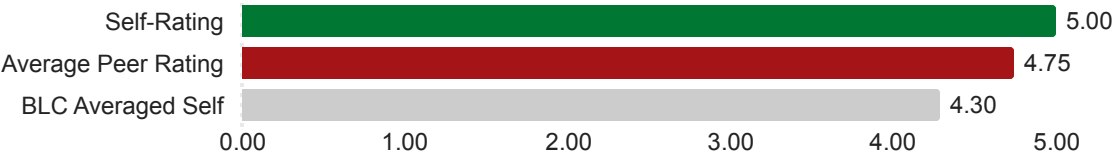

Collaboration skills

Contributing to the QUALITY of the team's work

Contributing to the QUANTITY of the team's work

ITEMS WITH THE HIGHEST AND LOWEST PEER RATINGS

Highest scores

Rank	Scoring category	Item	Average
1	Overall Effectiveness - Peer, Overall Effectiveness	How would you assess this person's overall effectiveness as a team member when it comes to collaboration skills?	5.00
1	Overall Effectiveness - Peer, Overall Effectiveness	How would you assess this person's overall effectiveness when it comes to contributing to the quality of the team's work?	5.00
1	Displays Team Commitment	Completes work by the agreed upon deadline	5.00
1	Demonstrates Leadership	Shares team leadership responsibilities appropriately	5.00
1	Displays Team Commitment	Completes their share of the work	5.00

Lowest scores

Rank	Scoring category	Item	Average
1	Demonstrates Leadership	Encourages team members to try new skills and behaviors	4.25
1	Manages Disagreements	Confronts others tactfully when they deviate from the team's ground rules	4.25
1	Manages Disagreements	Encourages teammates to resolve disagreements positively	4.25
2	Displays Team Commitment	Adheres to team meeting timetables (e.g., arrives on-time, stays for duration of meeting)	4.50
2	Demonstrates Leadership	Challenges the team to consider different viewpoints and approaches	4.50

This section shows the five highest and lowest rated behaviors (across all behaviors) from the applicable rater category averages. To get the most from this page, it is helpful to look for trends that may emerge. For example, if the majority of your lowest rated behaviors are concentrated in one or two categories; these may be areas in need of development. The highest rated behaviors can identify strengths that can be leveraged in other areas.

GAPS BETWEEN YOUR SELF-RATING AND AVERAGE PEER RATING

Hidden Strengths (Positive Gaps)

Rank	Scoring category	Item	Self-Rating	Average Peer Rating	Gap
1	Demonstrates Leadership	Holds teammates accountable	2.00	4.50	+2.50
2	Manages Disagreements	Addresses disagreements directly but tactfully	3.00	4.75	+1.75
3	Manages Disagreements	Encourages teammates to resolve disagreements positively	3.00	4.25	+1.25
3	Manages Disagreements	Confronts others tactfully when they deviate from the team's ground rules	3.00	4.25	+1.25
4	Demonstrates Leadership	Provides feedback that facilitates learning and development	4.00	4.75	+0.75

Areas for Improvement (Negative Gaps)

Rank	Scoring category	Item	Self-Rating	Average Peer Rating	Gap
1	Demonstrates Leadership	Encourages team members to try new skills and behaviors	5.00	4.25	-0.75
2	Displays Team Commitment	Adheres to team meeting timetables (e.g., arrives on-time, stays for duration of meeting)	5.00	4.50	-0.50
2	Demonstrates Leadership	Challenges the team to consider different viewpoints and approaches	5.00	4.50	-0.50
3	Displays Team Commitment	Consistently follows the team's ground rules and operating principles	5.00	4.75	-0.25
3	Demonstrates Leadership	Asks questions to ensure work activities are linked to agreed upon objectives	5.00	4.75	-0.25

The first column of scores indicates how you scored yourself. The second column indicates the average score of others. The third column indicates the difference between how you scored yourself and how others scored you.

OPEN-ENDED RESPONSES

What did Brian Morman do particularly well as a member of our team?

He took the initiative to set us up with tasks and timing to ensure we develop the work on time and the work load was assigned in a fair manner.

Warm, approachable, and genuinely enjoys connecting with others—someone who brings out the best in any team.

He provides a roadmap for the team to follow and addresses assignments that need to be due.

Brian isn't afraid to step up and get things done. He communicates effectively and is good humored.

What could Brian Morman have done better to enhance their performance as a member of our team?

I think he did a fantastic job.

n/a

Can sometimes be too agreeable.

No complaints

THE OLIN BUSINESS LITERACIES INVENTORY II: Feedback Report

The Olin Business Literacies Inventory (OBLI) invites you to evaluate your proficiency and progress in each of the business literacies taught across all of Olin's Executive MBA courses.

When you began the Olin EMBA program, you evaluated yourself on every literacy covered in the program, and estimated your target proficiency -- i.e., where you feel you need to be in order to achieve your 5-year career goal. This mid-program assessment invited a re-evaluation of your proficiency on literacies covered in your first-half courses. By comparing your self-assessment on this mid-program assessment with 1) your self-ratings on the initial assessment and 2) your target proficiency, you can evaluate how you feel you are progressing.

Olin courses are organized into three areas: 1) Lead, Measure, and Plan, 2) Execute, Refine, and Innovate, and 3) Grow, Scale, and Globalize. This mid-program survey focuses on literacies covered in courses within the "Lead, Measure, and Plan" area along with some of the courses within the "Execute, Refine, and Innovate" area. You will complete another survey at the end of the program to evaluate your progress on literacies covered in your second-half courses.

For each of the literacies covered within these three broad curriculum areas, this feedback report will provide the following scores:

1. Your PRE_PROGRAM PROFICIENCY -- your self-rating from your pre-program assessment
2. Your CURRENT PROFICIENCY -- your self-rating from your mid-program assessment
3. Your TARGETED PROFICIENCY -- your assessment of where you need to be on each literacy
4. The AVERAGE PROFICIENCY (BLC Average) -- for EMBA respondent based on the mid-program survey

As a reminder, you evaluated each literacy using the following 5-point scale:

- 1 = Well below average
- 2 = Below average
- 3 = Average
- 4 = Above average
- 5 = Well above average

Below is the five-year career goal you shared when you completed the first OBLI assessment.

Your Five-Year Career Goal

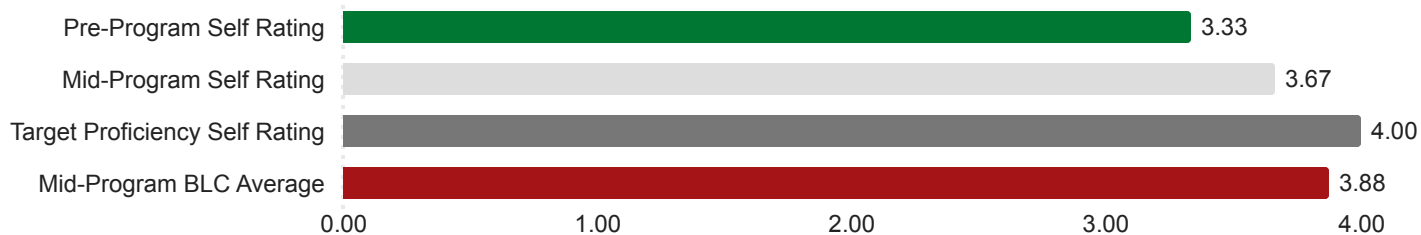

Where do you ideally see yourself professionally in five years? (E.g., position, industry, scope of responsibility, etc.)

In five years I hope to have established myself as a high performer with leadership potential at Boeing. I'd like to be in an engineering management role with direct reports and building skills as a manager with a clear path towards further promotions and a strong network to leverage.

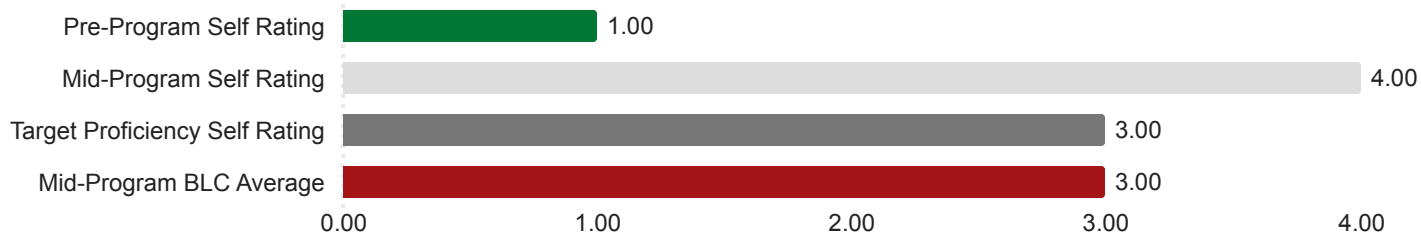

PART 1: LEAD, MEASURE, AND PLAN

1A. LEAD

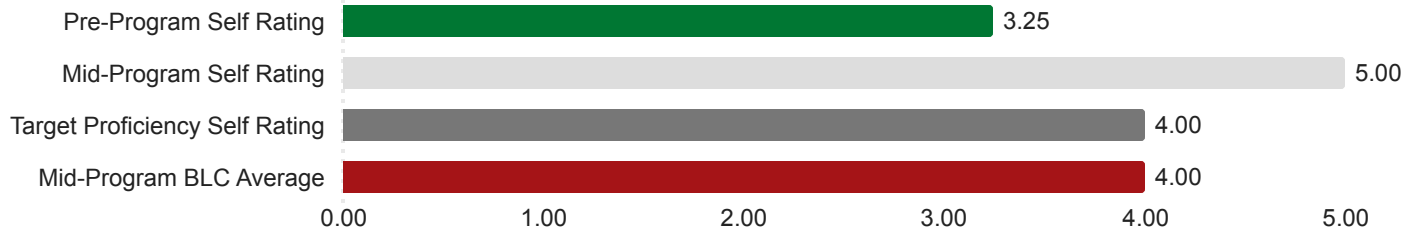

Leading Teams

Business Strategy

Leadership Development

Negotiations

1A. Lead Literacies

Leading Teams

- Understanding the factors that lead to effectiveness and dysfunction in teams.
- Applying proven strategies to remedy team dysfunctions and enhance team performance.
- Using peer feedback to assess my impact on my team.

Business Strategy

- Analyzing a firm's strategic position and industry structure in order to craft business strategies that generate long-run competitive advantage.

Leadership Development [literacies introduced to this point in the program]

- Using data to understand my personal leadership strengths and improvement opportunities.
- Planning for my personal development as a leader.

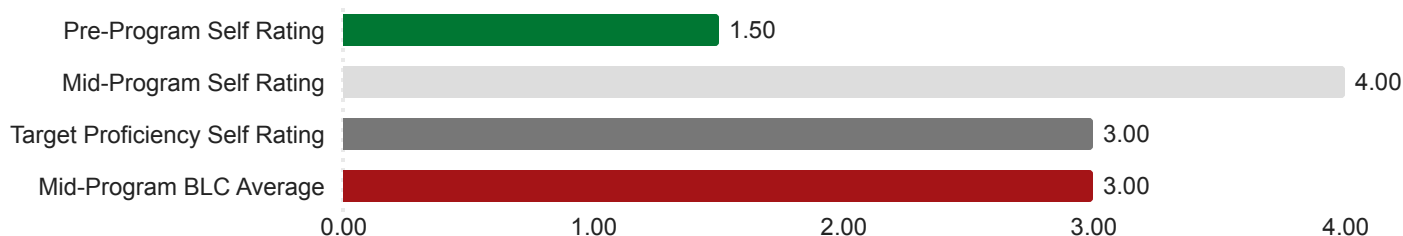

Negotiations and Conflict Management

- Using effective principles of deal design to create value in negotiations.
- Applying proven negotiating tactics to secure my primary interests while building professional relationships.
- Knowing how to identify and resolve conflicts before they escalate.

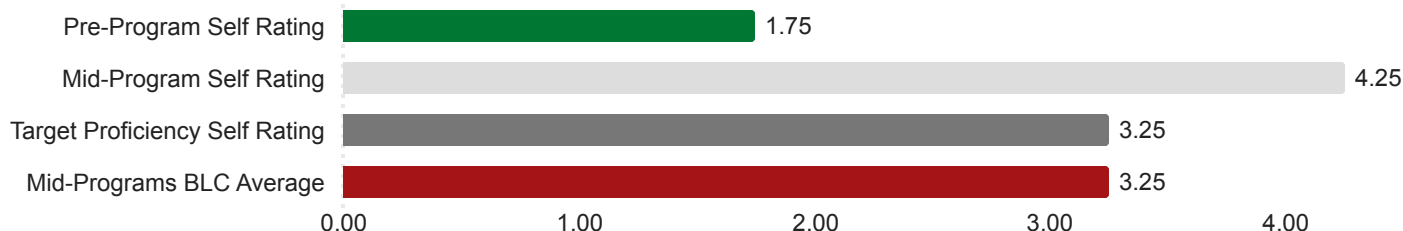

PART 1: LEAD, MEASURE, AND PLAN (continued)

1B. MEASURE

Microeconomics

Business, Government, and Society

1C. Plan Literacies

Microeconomics

- Applying basic economic tools related to consumer choice, firm behavior, and demand/supply to analyze business problems.
- Understanding how economic value is appropriated and/or compromised through specific business decisions in areas such as pricing, make vs. buy decisions, mergers vs. alliances, contracting, franchising, and market entry/exit.

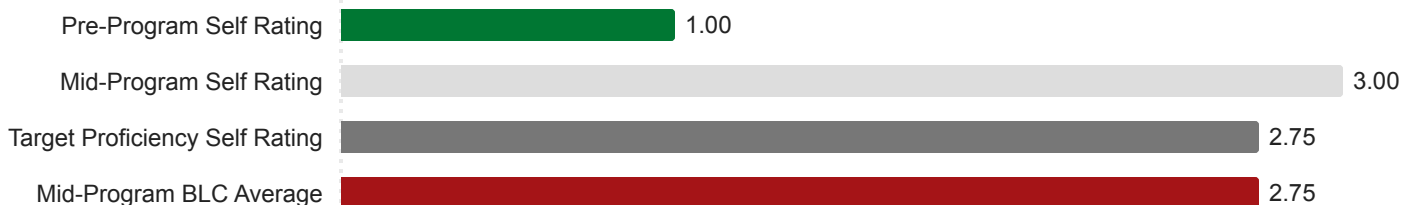

Business, Government and Society

- Understanding the role of government in shaping the competitive and institutional environment in which a firm operates.
- Understanding how business leaders can strategically navigate and work to shape regulations, policies, and laws.
- Recognizing how business leaders can impact society, including their influence on social welfare, individual freedom and privacy, and public health.
- Knowing how to utilize the data, information, and knowledge produced by government agencies and leading think-tanks as inputs to business decision-making.

PART 2: EXECUTE, REFINE, AND INNOVATE

2A. EXECUTE

Marketing

Operations

2A. Execute Literacies

Marketing

- Knowing how to analyze and influence customer behavior, including how to acquire and retain profitable customers.
- Using marketing tactics (price, product, promotion, placement) to drive performance.
- Understanding and managing financial aspects of marketing execution.
- Build a marketing plan to increase the success of new or existing products and services.

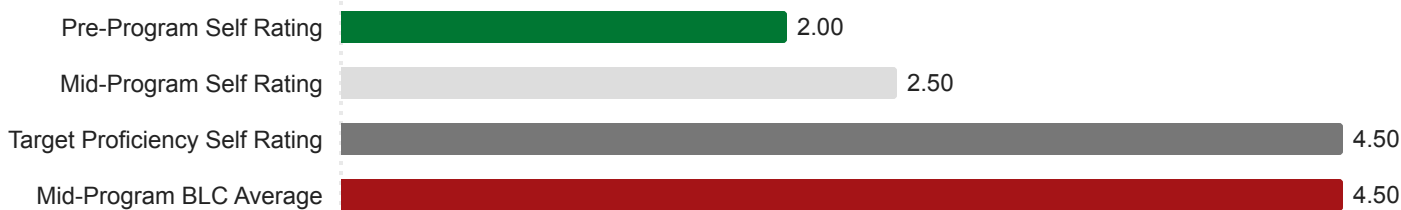

Operations

- Applying principles of capacity and variability management to analyze and design production processes.
- Utilizing established tools to plan production processes, including tools for lead time estimation, forecasting, and priority scheduling.
- Applying tools to analyze and manage inventory.
- Coordinating all of the elements of a supply chain to maximize efficiency and improve responsiveness.
- Applying quality management and six sigma practices to enhance production quality.
- Understanding the principles and practices of lean operations.
- Formulating implementation plans for operations & supply chain strategies.
- Coordinating all of the elements of a supply chain to maximize efficiency and improve responsiveness.
- Applying quality management and six sigma practices to enhance production quality.
- Understanding the principles and practices of lean operations.
- Formulating implementation plans for operations & supply chain strategies.

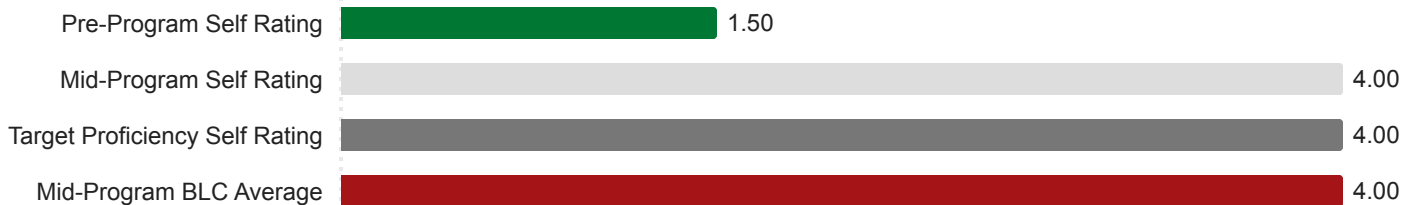

PART 2: EXECUTE, REFINE, AND INNOVATE (continued)

2B. Refine

Cost Accounting

Finance

2B. Refine Literacies

Cost Accounting

- Understanding how to manage costs to build a more effective and efficient organization.
- Leveraging the interplay between cost, strategy, and operations to make better organizational choices.
- Using budgeting techniques to improve planning and control of resources and activities.
- Evaluating business performance using holistic approaches such as the Balanced Scorecard.

Finance

- Evaluating financial return on investment opportunities by estimating free cash flows and discounting them at an appropriate cost of capital.
- Understanding the tradeoffs when making resource allocation decisions in a constrained environment.
- Knowing how to make a compelling case for your financial resource requests.
- Feeling comfortable using the language of finance to make business discussions.

PART 2: EXECUTE, REFINE, AND INNOVATE (continued)

2C. Innovate

Creativity

2C. Innovate Literacies [covered so far in the program]

Creativity

- Understand the creative process and how creativity can be fostered within an organization.